INTRODUCTION

Daniel Clark and his sister Mary spent their adult lives in the State of Indiana - he in Fulton County and she in Fulton and Starke counties. The Hoosier state has also been the place of residence of most of their descendants. Nothing is known of their parents except that their mother's given name was Margaret and that she died May 18, 1855. This information is inscribed on her broken tombstone located in a little country cemetery (Omega Cemetery) 4 miles southwest of Akron, Indiana. As near as can be deciphered, because of the bad condition of the tombstone, her age at death was 61 years, 3 months, and 15 days. This cemetery is only 1/2-mile east of the farm Daniel purchased in 1843 - the farm upon which he made his home from marriage unto death. The deed record of the purchase of this farm, in the county recorder's office in Rochester, Indiana states that Daniel was of "Clearmont (sic) County, Ohio". This clue and a newspaper account of the death of Benjamin Noftsgar (one of Mary's sons), which states that Benjamin was born in Hamilton County, Ohio, indicate that Daniel's and Mary's parents lived in the Cincinnati, Ohio area. Further indication of this is that Mary was married in Hamilton County, Aug. 5, 1841 to Nelson M. Noftsgar. The marriage is a matter of record in the county courthouse in Cincinnati.

The 1850 census for Henry Township, Fulton County, Indiana lists 5 persons living in Daniel's household. Beside himself and wife there were Ann Clark (age 50), Julia Clark (age 18), and John Clark (age 12). Ann Clark may have been his mother Margaret (Ann being her second given name). Julia and John may have been a sister and a brother.

Nelson M. and Mary (Clark) Noftsgar moved from Hamilton County, Ohio to Fulton County, Indiana about 1853. Soon thereafter Nelson died. Their 4 children were then apparently adopted by foster parents. Two of them, Benjamin and Louisa, lived with their uncle Daniel, at least for a short time, as the 1860 census shows them living in his household. On Dec. 8, 1857 Mary married Samuel Perry.

Family tradition has it that Daniel and Mary were of Indian extraction. An extant photograph of Mary (the property of Jesse May Cluen, Warsaw, Ind.) gives credence to this belief. Daniel's daughter Celina and her son Roy had the dark skin and some facial characteristics of the Indian.

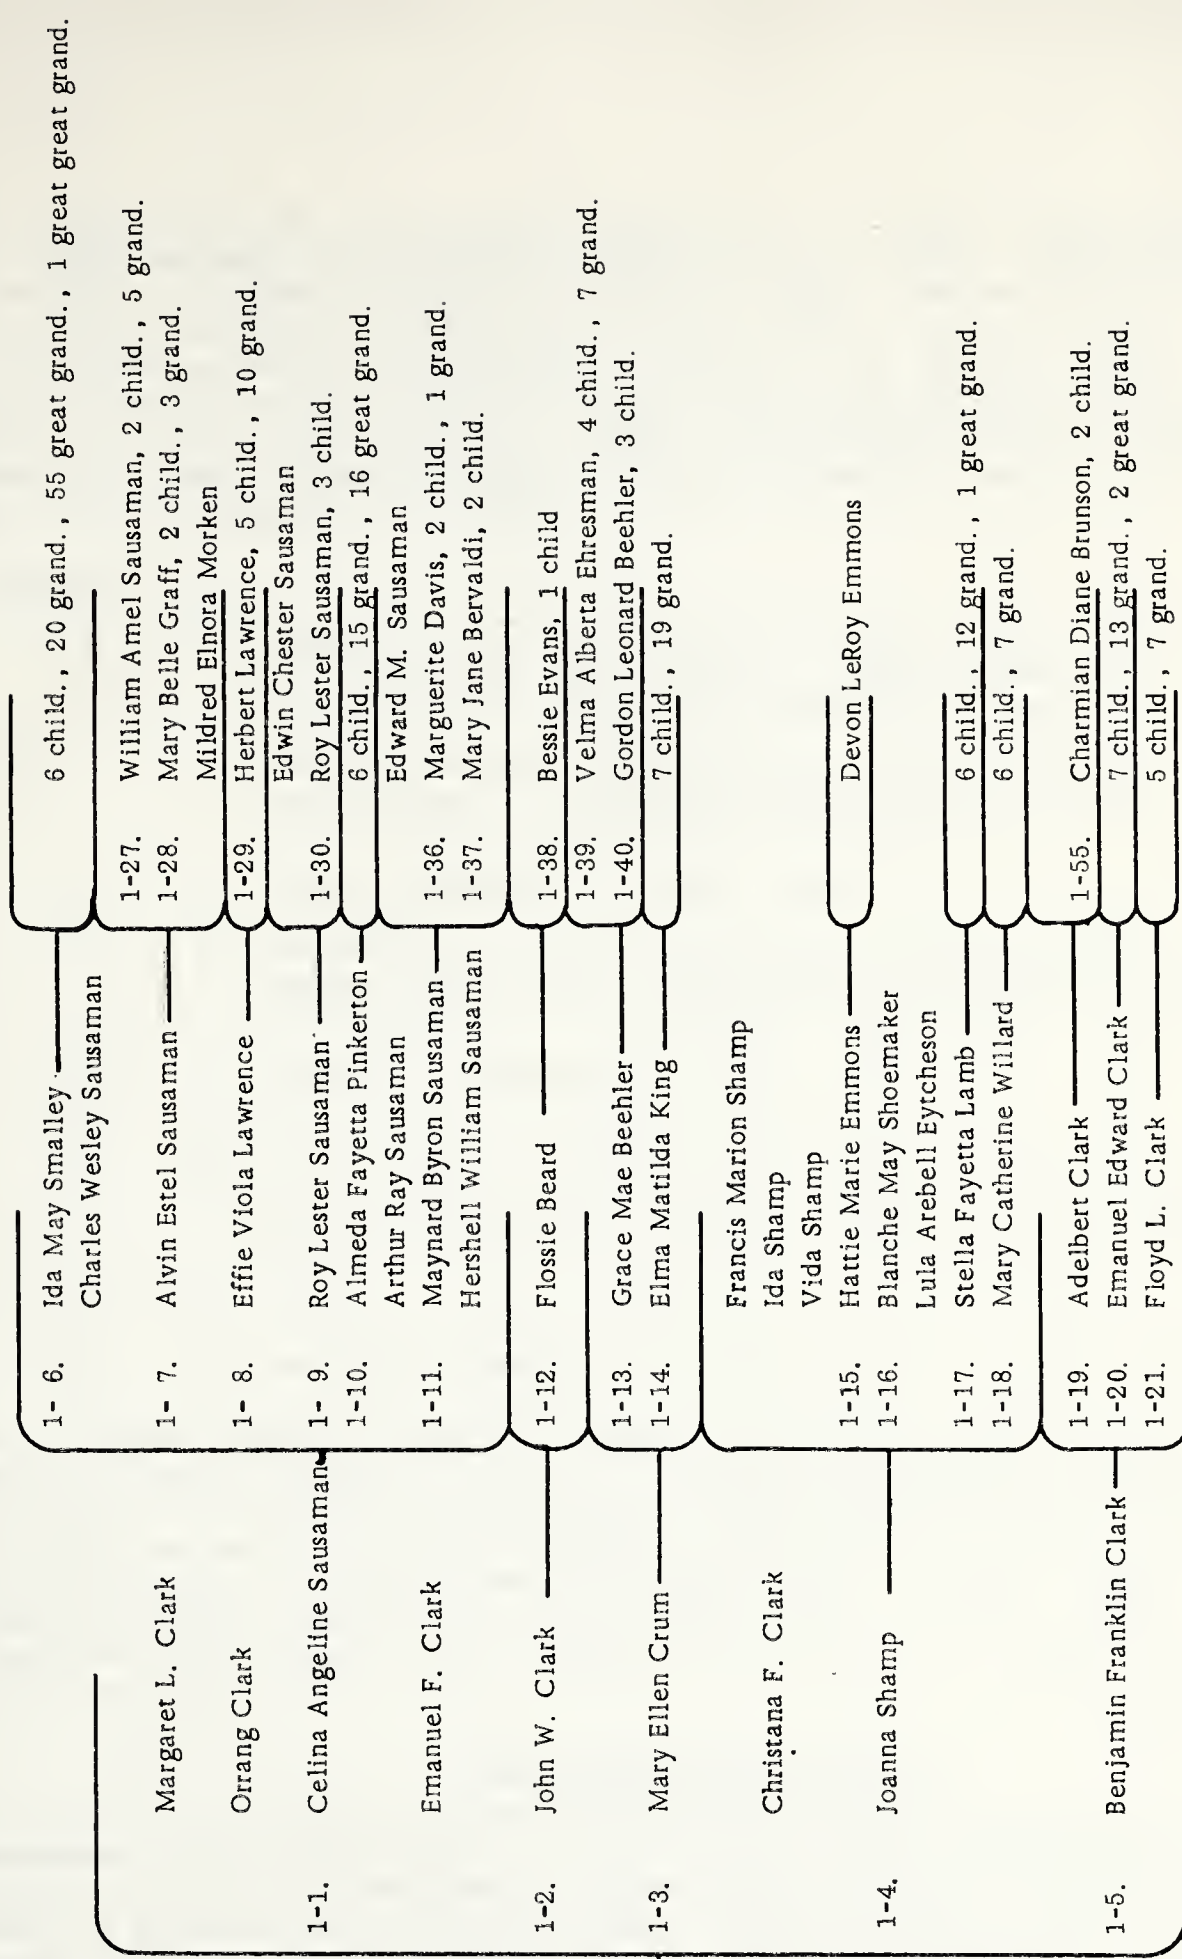

In explanation of the numbering system used in this history - Daniel is No. 1; his first descendant, with issue, is No. 1-1; his second descendant, with issue, is No. 1-2, etc. Mary is No. 2, her first descendant, with issue, is No. 2-1; her second descendant, with issue, is No. 2-2, etc. Descendants, with issue, are also given a Roman number. Descendants, without issue, are given a Roman number only. The Roman number indicates the order of birth - a fourth child of a marriage, for example, will have the Roman number "IV".

Grateful acknowledgement is made to the many members of the family who patiently answered letters of inquiry and furnished information for this history. Especially helpful were Grace Mae (Crum) Beehler, Rochester, Ind.; Elma Matilda (Crum) King, Talma, Ind.; Stella Fayette (Shamp) Lamb, Huntington, Ind.; Almeda Fayette (Sausaman) Pinkerton, Peru, Ind.; and Gladys Marie (Colwell) Woodhouse, Twelve Mile, Ind.

1. DANIEL, son of _____ and Margaret () Clark, was born Oct. 23, 1816, probably in Clermont or Hamilton Co., Ohio. He married Matilda Newell in Fulton Co., Ind., April 23, 1850. They are both buried in a little country cemetery (Omega Cem.) ½-mile east of their farm. He died Feb. 3, 1876 and she June 4, 1896. An inscribed monument marks Matilda's grave and a separate single inscribed monument marks the graves of Daniel and his daughter Christana.

She married William Hershell Sausaman, apparent son of Isaac Sausaman, in Omega Church near Akron, Ind., Nov. 6, 1873. He was born in Chillicothe, Ohio, Sept. 14, 1854. William died at his son Alvin's home in Marion, Ind., Mar. 12, 1933. Celina died at her daughter Ida's farm home north of Peru, Ind., Jan. 19, 1934. William and Celina are both buried in Mt. Hope Cem., Peru, Ind. A single monument marks their graves.

The Parentage of William

Although there is much evidence that William was a natural son of an Isaac Sausaman of Suffield, Ohio, it has not been proven by court records. This absence of court record proof is much regretted by the compiler of this work - a grandson of William's. Much time and effort, over a period of 25 years, has been spent in this quest. The usual sources have been searched to no avail - among them being the court house records in Chillicothe, Ohio; London, Ohio; Peru, Ind.; and Rochester, Ind.; the Chillicothe Public Library, the Ross County Historical Society, the nine churches in Chillicothe that existed during the 1850-1865 period; and the 1860 census record for Ross County.

Ironically, William was not curious about his ancestry and never made any effort to find his mother and father - yet his apparent father resided only 300 miles from him and lived until 1919.

In 1954 Ben and Dan Sausaman, aged 77 and 88 respectively, the then only living children of Isaac and Sarah Sausaman were interviewed concerning the possibility of their father having sired a child prior to marriage. Ben knew nothing of the matter but Dan stated that many years previous a cousin, Catherine Sausaman, had visited him and told him that his father had had a natural son. Catherine before her death in 1934 also made the same assertion to Edward Sausaman, one of William's grandsons. Donald Smyth, one of Isaac's grandsons, in an interview in 1956 remembered, as a young boy, of conversations of his mother with other members of the family, concerning the matter. Credence must be given to Catherine's story as it was told without prompting and she was in a position to know of the matter as her father was an older brother of Isaac's who lived for several years in the same locality in Indiana as William did.

Isaac was only 15 years of age at the time of William's birth - an early age to have sired a child - but not improbable. Before William died in 1933 he was questioned at length concerning his background. He knew very little because of the fact that he was raised by foster parents. He apparently was taken by his foster parents, Walter and Mary (McDonald) Hudnell, from an orphanage in Chillicothe, Ohio, about 1865. Hudnell, a resident of Mt. Sterling, Ohio, took him to Miami County, Ind. (near Gilead) where he grew into manhood and married. The few facts that William knew were:- (1) he was born in Chillicothe, Ohio, on Sept. 14, 1854, (2) never knew who his real parents were except that his father was an "Isaac Sausaman", (3) thought he had four brothers and one sister but never knew what became of them, and (4) that he was the youngest child, and (5) was of German descent.

Isaac's brothers Jacob, Fred, and Henry and sisters Lydia and Amelia moved to the same locality in Indiana that Walter Hudnell did and about the same time. Isaac, his brother John, and his sisters Kate and Esther remained in the Akron, Ohio area. Brother Dan was already deceased. The fact that William lived in the same vicinity with all these other Sausamans and the fact that this was the only locality in the State of Indiana (at that time) where there were other people living with the unusual name of Sausaman gives credence to the belief that William was related.

William had a prominent Roman nose as did several of the Sausamans, including Isaac, Ben, Dan, and Isaac's mother, Catherine (Jarrett) Sausaman. Extant photographs clearly show this resemblance.

According to Dan, his father Isaac, after the death of Isaac's father John in 1848, stayed at home and ran the home farm at Hartville, Ohio, until he was about 19 or 20 and then went to Miami County, Indiana for a few years. He then returned to Hartville where he married Sarah Swinehart about 1865 and lived out the rest of his life. Although Isaac must have seen William the few years he lived in Miami County, he apparently never made himself known to him. Dan asserted that his father never lived in Chillicothe. Conjecture has it that William's mother (whoever she might have been) moved from Hartville to Chillicothe shortly before he was born.

It is believed that William was confused when, in his old age, he said that he had had four older brothers and one sister. Apparently he had in mind the Sausaman brothers (Jacob, Fred, and Henry) and their sisters Amelia (Sausaman) Dickerhoff and Lydia (Sausaman) Long, who lived near him at Gilead when he was a boy. Actually they apparently were his uncles and aunts.

Summing up Isaac is believed to have been the father of William for the following reasons:

1. Catherine Sausaman's statements to that effect.
2. Facial resemblance of William, Isaac, and Catherine.
3. William lived in the only locality in the whole state of Indiana where there were other Sausamans and those Sausamans had a brother "Isaac."
4. Isaac is the only "Isaac Sausaman" that has been discovered in the States of Ohio and Indiana in 25 years of search.

During his entire life William was never known to have used tobacco, to have drunk alcoholic beverages of any kind, or to have used profane language. He felt so strongly against the use of intoxicating liquor that he would not enter any business establishment where it was sold. The story is told of the time that Celina sent him to a saloon to obtain a particular medicine for their son Alvin who was ill from inflammatory rheumatism, which had been brought on by an attack of typhoid fever. (Oddly enough this saloon was the only place where the particular medicine could be obtained.) William secured the medicine but the family learned later that the purchase had actually been made by an acquaintance. The acquaintance upon passing the saloon had been prevailed upon to make the purchase while William awaited outside.

The regular attendance of church services was almost a phobia with him. A severe illness in the family was about the only thing that would keep him away. He, himself, was rarely ill and his children never knew him to be sick abed. He would not "Walk a Mile for a Camel" but would walk 2 or 3 or more miles for a church service.

The farm where he lived from 1867 to 1889 was located close to 3 churches - $3\frac{1}{4}$ miles from the Methodist Episcopal Church at Gilead, 2 miles from the little country church known as the Omega Church, and 1 mile from the Pleasant Hill Methodist Church. The first Pleasant Hill church was a one-room log building which was used until 1869 at which time a frame building was built at a new location $1\frac{1}{4}$ miles northwest of the original building site. The present church building, replacing the 1869 structure, was built in 1914.

Each Sunday William would attend one of these churches. At the early age of 13 he became a member of the Gilead Church. It is not known whether or not he actually joined the other two churches. All three churches are still in existence (1957) and are actively engaged in furthering God's kingdom.

The Omega church always had a warm place in his heart because it was there that he met Celina for the first time. He told his son Alvin that it was love at first sight and that he made up his mind then and there that Celina would be his future wife. After the children started coming this was the church (and Sunday school) the family attended most often.

After his marriage William attempted to till a 51-acre farm which he had inherited from his foster father. The fact that he did not have a natural aptitude for farming and the fact that the income from the farm was not sufficient to feed and clothe his growing family caused him to eventually lose it (apparently by foreclosure). The family then (about 1889) moved to Peru, Ind. where he first secured work with a man by the name of John Cater (or Kater). He and Cater travelled the countryside gathering dead stock which was processed into fertilizer.

He only worked for Cater a short time and then obtained a job in the old Howe factory - a factory which manufactured refrigerators (North Star brand) and cabinets for the Singer sewing machine company. William worked as a setter in the mill where the wood logs were first rough sawn. In these prosperous times it is hard to understand how he possibly could have raised a large family on the $1.50 to $2.00 per day pay he received during his 15 years employment with this factory.

Celina eventually had to go to work to supplement the family budget. For many years she took in washing and ironing and then for several years worked as a housekeeper for some of the wealthy families of Peru including the Brownell and Porter families. Mrs. Porter, it is believed, was the grandmother of Cole Porter, the present day famous music composer. Celina was a very good cook and the Brownell family soon learned this. Thereupon she became their cook instead of their housekeeper. She obtained $5.00 per day for her services as a cook - very good wages for those days. Through this supplemental income the family eventually secured full title to their home at 16 E. Boulevard (now 376 Hoover Ave.).

William's last job, which extended over a period of several years, was that of office janitor at the Square D Electric Company. He was never able to obtain employment other than that of a day laborer because of limited schooling (limited to a few years of grammar school) and the lack of any skilled trade.

At family gatherings the main topic of conversation was foodstuffs - much to the consternation of a few members of the family. A psychologist would probably say that this stress on food was the aftermath of the meager fare the family got while living on the farm in the 1880's. On the other hand it may have been because of Celina's unusual ability as a cook. In later years a banquet (the word is used advisedly) with all the trimmings was always a part of any Sausaman gathering.

Walter Hudnell, William's foster father, upon arriving in Miami Co., Ind., in March 1865, purchased a 52.32-acre farm in Perry Twp. Two years later he sold it and on June 25, 1867 purchased a second farm for the sum of $600. The second farm, situated directly across the road to the east from the first, comprised "the N½ of the NW¼ of section 2, twp. 29 N - range 4E, of the 2nd p.m., excepting 1.80 acres lying along the east line of said lot, containing 51 acres more or less."

This second farm is where William grew to manhood, where he lived for the first 16 years of marriage, and where his first 7 children were born. Upon Walter's death in 1872 the ownership of the farm passed into the hands of his widow, Mary, and upon her death in 1882 William became owner. Mary (McDonald) Hudnell, William's foster mother, remarried on Aug. 1, 1876. It is believed, however, that she never lived with her second husband (Hamlin Carpenter) but continued living on the farm with William until her death.

Celina was born and raised on a farm one-half mile west of the Omega Church. Daniel Clark, her father, purchased the farm for the sum of \$400 upon removing to Indiana from Clermont Co., Ohio in June 1843. The farm comprised 80 acres, being the $W\frac{1}{2}$ of the $SE\frac{1}{4}$ of section 28, twp. 30N - range 4E, of the 2nd p.m.

William's son Alvin still remembers, with amusement, the time his father tried to subdue a skunk. William had been doing some work for a Mr. Chestnut on the Chestnut farm immediately to the east and walking home across fields happened upon the skunk in a fence corner. In attempting to kill the odiferous animal with a club it let forth a full blast of its defensive powers. His clothes eventually had to be buried as no amount of scrubbing would eradicate the odour.

In the '80's songs with gibberish choruses were popular. One that Celina sang to her grandchildren, to their great delight, was "Polly Won't You Try Me O."

Polly Won't You Try Me O

There was^a frog he sat in a spring,
Sing song Polly won't you ki me O?
He was so cold he could not sing,
Sing song Polly won't you ki me O?
Hi mo karo hunki pi puddle soup sipe puddle, run him up
the rump stump,
Sing song Polly won't you ki me O?

A somewhat different version of this ditty is given in Douglas Gilbert's book, "Lost Chords."

William and Celina spent the last few years of their lives with their children - alternating between the homes of Alvin in Marion, Almeda in Peru, and Ida in her farm home on the Chili pike a few miles north of Peru. Although William's health declined with age, he was never abed for any long period of time; and his death came unexpectedly on a Sunday afternoon in March 1933 at Alvin's home. After eating a fairly hearty dinner he complained of not feeling well and said that he would lie down a while. An hour or so later his granddaughter Mildred found him dead in bed. Celina's health also declined with age and she died at Ida's home, of pneumonia, Jan. 19, 1934.

A transcript of Celina's last will and testament and that of Walter Hudnell's follow:

Three years after William had sold his farm and moved to Peru, court records show that he made a final accounting of the handling of the estate of Walter Hudnell. Apparently he had neglected to do this earlier and because of this negligence the new owners of the farm apparently did not have clear title and in order to prove his original ownership and right to sell, a final order of the court had to be secured. The following is a copy of the court's report:

State of Indiana, Miami County, SS;
Miami Circuit Court,

January Term, 1892

In Estate
Walter Hudnell, Dec'd

William Sausaman, Administrator with the will annexed of the Estate of Walter Hudnell, Deceased, in account for final settlement.

That he has paid into Court the sum of Eleven Dollars for said legatees or their heirs, in discharge of said legacies, as shown by voucher No. 2 filed herewith.

That said decedent also bequeathed to Minerva Garner, since intermarried with Elias Shriver, the sum of One Hundred Dollars: that said legacy was paid to the said Minerva Jane Shriver, nee Garner, on the 4th day of August 1873, by the widow, Mary Hudnell, as shown by her receipt filed herewith, marked No. 1.

That said decedent devised the residue of his property, both real and personal, to his wife, Mary Hudnell, during her life: that the said Mary Hudnell at the death of her said husband, caused said will to be probated and took possession of, controlled the use and management of the real and personal estate of said decedent, under the provisions of said Will, during her life. That he has paid all the costs in the administration of said estate, as shown by vouchers filed herewith, that the legacies have been paid, and said estate administered upon, to free the lands devised to him, from such liens, for his personal benefit, he therefore makes no charge and asks no credit for his services or expenditures.

He therefore asks that said Estate be declared settled and closed, and that he be discharged from further administering the same.

from 1916 to 1919 and, upon his removal to South Bend, Ind. in 1922, served in various capacities in the First Baptist Church of that city - 3 years as church clerk, 12 years as deacon, and several terms as Sunday School Superintendent. He was a pianist of some repute (self-taught) and played in various public places in and around Peru - including dance halls, a motion picture theatre, and the First Baptist Church. He attended elementary school, through the eighth grade, in Peru. His first work was with the Howe factory in Peru where he learned the wood finishing trade - finishing wood parts for Singer sewing machines and enameling interiors of North Star refrigerators. Later he worked as wood finisher for Chute and Butler, piano manufacturers. In March 1915 he secured a position as roadmaster's clerk in Peru for the Lake Erie and Western Railroad Co. - having prepared for the position by attending business school and night high school. He resigned this position to take a better paying job with the Cardinal Cabinet Co., Wabash, Ind., as a phonograph finisher. Work slackened off and he then resumed his position with the railroad where he worked from May, 1920 to May, 1922. 1-3. MARY ELLEN (Daniel¹), dau. of Daniel and Matilda (Newell) Clark was born near Akron, Ind., July 18, 1861. She married William Leonard Crum in Rochester, Ind., Nov. 23, 1891. He was born on a farm 6 miles northwest of Rochester, Ind., Dec. 19, 1862. Mary and William died at their farm home 4½ miles southwest of Akron, Ind.-she on Feb. 12, 1901 and he on June 26, 1895. Both are buried in the Omega Cem. 4 miles southwest of Akron, Ind. A newspaper account of William's death and an account of a neighborhood benefit for his widow follow:

DIED OF LOCKJAW

Wm. Crum, a prosperous young farmer of Henry Township, died a terrible death from lockjaw, Wednesday. His disease developed from a bruise on his heel and it is said that his sufferings were of the most excruciating nature ever seen in the vicinity. He was an honorable, industrious young man and leaves a wife and two small children. (He jumped over a fence onto a stiff dry weed. From this puncture wound lockjaw developed, Ed.)

The home of Mrs. Ella Crum, nee Clark, near Sugar Grove, was the scene of a very pretty and righteous event last Tuesday. The weather was rather inclement but not too much so for the good people of that neighborhood to do good, and show their christian sympathy in a tangible way for the widow and orphan children, and to such an extent that they will always be remembered. Twenty three men of the neighborhood came together in the morning and hauled wood from the woods and cut and corded up on the wood-pile twenty cords of stove wood. And sixteen married ladies and one single lady came to the home of the widow laden with baskets full of good things for the men to eat who were engaged in the chopping. Thus the good ladies of the neighborhood were encouraging their liege lords in doing good, by furnishing them an extra fine dinner for their days' work as we can truly testify from the samples that reached this office. The names of the gentleman present were: Messrs. Jap Bozarth, Charles Johnson, Thomas Nicodemus, Philip Nicodemus, Joe Nicodemus, Charles Nicodemus, Dan Olinger, Wile Gambrel, Dan Melvin, Frank Wines, Jerome Burch, Alex Sheets, Dave Putman, Price Biggs, John Sheets, Robert Chestnut, Wm. Davis, Harrison Graham, Grant Nye, C. Nichols, W. D. Whittenberger, Chas. Hoover, and Mesdames Whittenberger, Hoover Bozarth, Margerett, J. P. and J. Nicodemus, Johnson, Gambrel, Nye, Chestnut, Long, Davis, Biggs, Putman, Sheets, Clark, and Miss Nettie Gambrel.

Ella Crum

Mary Ellen Clark Crum was born in Henry Township, July 18, 1861; died February 12, 1901, after an illness of about 20 days of lung trouble, aged 39 years, 6 months, and 24 days. She united with the M. E. church in 1892, at Omega. She was from a family of nine children and for one of her years saw many hardships of this life. By her kindly disposition she was surrounded by many friends whose sympathy she enjoyed even in her last illness. November 28, 1891, she was united in marriage with William Crum who died June 26th 1895; leaving her the care of their two small children, Gracia May and Elma Matilda, who are now doubly bereaved by the loss of their mother. She leaves to mourn her departure from this life, two sisters and two brothers and her two orphan children, and many friends and neighbors.

The funeral occurred Wednesday, at Omega, conducted by Rev. P. P. Kegg and the body laid to rest by the side of her husband.

William Crum

About a month ago, William Crum a young farmer who lives three miles southwest of Akron snagged his heel while plowing. The wound healed over as he thought and gave him no trouble until last Friday he began to suffer excruciating pain and the muscles of his entire body become rigid, the technical name applied being Traumatic Tetanus. We commonly call it "lockjaw" although the muscles of the jaws were no more rigid than other muscles of the body. Today, Wednesday, he is apparently dying, at least there is no hope of his recovery. Everything that could be was done for his relief but without avail. Later: Mr. Crum died about 2:30 this afternoon. He leaves a young widow and two small children. He was a quiet, industrious honest citizen and respected by all who knew him. The funeral occurred at Omega Thursday afternoon conducted by Rev. B. F. Snyder and the body laid peacefully away in the presence of a large assembly of sympathizing people.

1-7. ALVIN ESTEL (Celina², Daniel¹), son of William Hershell and Celina Angeline (Clark) Sausaman was born near Gilead, Ind., June 12, 1867. He married Anna Thressa Bahr, dau. of Amel Joseph Frederick and Mary Belle (Crandall) Bahr in Marion, Ind., July 2, 1902. She was born in Niles, Mich., Mar. 21, 1882. Anna and Alvin died in Marion, Ind. - she on Dec. 12, 1953 and he on June 15, 1960. Both are buried in the I.O.O.F. Cem. there. A single monument, with separate headstones mark their graves.

For a short time after marriage Alvin worked as a lamp chimney finisher in the Macbeth-Evans Glass Company in Marion and later worked in a paper mill in Chicago. In 1909 he and his family moved to Elwood, Ind. where he worked for the next 12 years as a glass blower in the Elwood plant of the Macbeth-Evans Glass Company. In January 1922 he and his wife, with their three children, moved back to Marion where Alvin worked for the Bahr Brothers Manufacturing Company for a few years after which he went into the grocery business. He followed this business having stores at three locations at different times, until his retirement in 1935.

While in Elwood, where their children grew up, Anna and Alvin both took an active part in the activities of the Methodist Episcopal Church - Alvin serving as a Sunday School teacher and Anna serving as pianist for the Sunday School. Alvin was also Sunday School Superintendent for the Home Park Methodist Church in Marion, for several terms, both before moving to Elwood and after returning to Marion.

During the first one or two years in Elwood, because Anna did not like to stay alone at night (Alvin worked nights at that time), Anna's maternal grandfather, Charles A. Crandall, came to live with them. While living at their home he suffered an injury to one eye and subsequently had to have it removed. The injury was caused from a flying piece of coal which hit his eye while he was breaking up lumps of coal with an axe. Charles A. Crandall died in 1913 at the age of 80.

Anna was a good student in school, attended grade school in Niles and the Mississinewa Grade School in Marion, and was one of the first graduates from the old Marion High School (now demolished) on West Third Street. She attended Marion Business College for a seven-month term beginning Sept. 5, 1898. After completing courses in business and shorthand she secured a position as stenographer for the Nussbaum Iron Bedstead Co.

Like her mother her interests were few. The welfare of her family and the affairs of the Home Park Methodist Church in Marion (and the affairs of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Elwood, Ind. from 1909 to 1921) encompassed her life. Other than that her chief interest was church music. Nothing enthralled her so much as a new hymn book. Perusing its pages and playing snatches of the hymns on the piano was a great joy to her. Over the years, by purchase and gift, she was able to acquire a sizeable collection of books on sacred music. Her collections also included a few anthologies of folk songs, and popular music and scrap books and publications of stories behind famous hymns.

A few months after her death in 1953, her son presented the collection together with a bookcase for housing it, to the Home Park Methodist Church as a memorial to her. A bronze nameplate reading "ANNA BAHR SAUSAMAN HYMN LIBRARY", a special set of bookplates for insertion in each book, and an index file were also presented to the church.

Anna had a retiring nature, never seeking the limelight, preferred to remain in the background, and refrained from meeting people. She loved to read novels and romances. Yet she would never go to the library to get them. Withdrawals had to be made by her husband and son. She found shopping distasteful. Provisions for the home and even most of her wearing apparel had to be purchased by her husband. In her younger days she loved to sew and especially liked to crochet. Poetry, and especially the homey verses of Eugene Field, James Whitcomb Riley, Edgar A. Guest, and Barton Rees Pogue were an inspiration to her.

Paradoxically, considering the fact that Anna had a retiring nature and did not like to meet new people, she did, over the years, hold many offices in the Home Park Methodist Church and in church organizations. She served several terms as church treasurer and held various offices in the Woman's Society of Christian Service and the Mattie Cammack Gibson chapter of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Anna was a descendant of Elder John Crandall, a Baptist minister, who came to this country from England in 1634. (A 797-page genealogy of the Crandall family, "The Descendants of Elder John Crandall" was published in 1949.) A genealogy of her father's family "The Descendants of Johan Bahr of Germany" was published by her son in 1955.

The funeral service for Anna was conducted by Rev. Walter H. Baumbaugh, a brother-in-law, assisted by Rev. Edward Sausaman, a nephew, and the Mattie Gibson W.C.T.U. The service for Alvin was conducted by Rev. Baumbaugh, assisted by Major Roy Phelps of the Salvation Army, and Rev. Stelts, pastor of the Home Park Methodist Church. The following account of Alvin's death appeared in the June 15, 1960 issue of the Marion (Ind.) Chronicle:

She had spent these 57 years living with the Indians and had married "She-po-con-ah," a Miami Indian Chief. Mabel had luxuriant auburn hair, an atavistic feature she had inherited from her illustrious great grandmother. She also carried her great grandmother's Indian name "Ma-con-a-quah". Mabel was admitted to the Haskell Institute, Lawrence, Kansas, an Indian school, in 1904. She is buried in the Indian Cem., Peoria, Ind.-beside her great grandmother. The following notice of Mabel's death appeared in the Nov. 2, 1917 issue of The Peru (Ind.) Republican newspaper:

MABEL RAY BUNDY SAUSAMAN DEAD

Great Grand-Daughter of Frances
Slocum Passes on

Mrs. Mabel Ray Bundy Sausaman, thirty-one, wife of Roy Sausaman, of Peru, died Wednesday after an extended illness of tuberculosis. Mrs. Sausaman was a great-granddaughter of Frances Slocum, the white woman who lived with the Miami Indians as the wife of She-po-con-ah, a leader of his tribe. Frances Slocum when but six years of age was stolen by the Delaware Indians, from her home at Wilkes Barre, Pa., and though the relatives made diligent search for her for many years she was not found until 1837. At that time she was living in a hut on the banks of the Mississinewa river, eight miles southeast of Peru. The brothers of Frances Slocum came from Wilkes Barre, Pa., and tried to persuade their sister to go back home with them, but she refused, claiming that she would be happier where she was - among the Miami Indians, a peaceable tribe, with whom she had lived for sixty years. Frances Slocum died in 1848 and on May 17, 1900, there was erected to her memory a bronze monument in the cemetery near where she had lived for so long and had died so contented and happy. The monument was paid for by the Slocum relatives and there were hundreds of them here for the unveiling ceremonies.

At the unveiling Mabel Ray Bundy, the great-granddaughter of Frances Slocum, removed the draperies which hid the monument from view. She at once became a favorite among the Slocums in attendance and Elliott T. Slocum, of Detroit, offered her a college education which she gladly accepted. She spent a year in the Indian college at Lawrence, Kans., and then returned home to Peru. Here she married Roy Sausaman, who together with the father, one brother and one sister survive.

Mrs. Sausaman's father, Judson Bundy, is the only remaining son of the Late Rev. Peter Bundy, who was a minister among the Indians of this section. Rev. Peter Bundy was the husband of a daughter of Frances Slocum, Ma-con-a-quah, wife of She-po-con-ah. Frances Slocum in her childhood was possessed of beautiful auburn hair and this characteristic was inherited by Mabel Ray Bundy Sausaman, the only descendent of hers thus favored.

Last year a community entertainment was given here in commemoration of Indiana's centennial. The pantomime was interwoven with the story of the life of Frances Slocum and there were 500 characters in the play. None of the performers attracted more attention nor received more praise than did Mrs. Sausaman, who took the part of Frances Slocum and played it well. It was said by the State Centennial Association that the play was one of the most spectacular and interesting held in the state that year.

The funeral of Mrs. Sausaman will be held at the Oakdale Baptist Church in North Peru, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and it is expected that numerous Slocum relatives will be here for the last sad rites.

1-13. GRACE MAE (Mary², Daniel¹), dau. of William Leonard and Mary Ellen (Clark) Crum, was born 4½ miles southwest of Akron, Ind., May 29, 1893. She married Alvin Clarence Beehler, son of Charles Frederick and Barbara Ellen (Walters) Beehler, in Rochester, Ind., Dec. 25, 1911. He was born in Fulton Co., Ind., Jan. 3, 1884. Grace and Alvin reside (1961) 8 miles west of Rochester, Ind. on State Route 14 (R. R. 4).

Grace was born on a farm 1½ miles south and 3 miles west of Akron, Indiana - 2 miles east of the cross roads community of Sugar Grove. A general store, school house, and a few homes comprised the community. At one time the general store was owned and operated by Benjamin Noftsger, a first cousin, once removed, whose life sketch is given elsewhere in this history. Later the store burned and the school house was torn down. Today (1960) nothing remains of either except the school house foundation. After the death of her mother, which occurred when Grace was only 7 years 8 months old, she was taken for a few months by George and Daisy (Carter) Washington, a young farm couple living near Macy, Ind. Upon expectation of a baby they took her back to the Sugar Grove community to the care of an elderly couple - Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Johnson. Mr. Johnson was a Civil War veteran. He had helped settle the meager estate of Grace's mother which had consisted of some furniture and a 10-acre farm. It was on this farm, in a two-room cottage, where Grace and her sister Elma were born. Grace started to school at Sugar Grove in the fall of 1899 but only attended about 2 weeks when she contracted scarlet fever. Her mother kept her in the house until spring. She started to school again the following fall and her mother died 5 months later. She attended Sugar Grove school during the winter of 1901-1902 while living with the Johnsons and then in November 1902 was taken by the Clemons (Floyd and Naomi (Clevenger) Clemons) to a farm they had rented from Emmet Scott 3 miles north of Rochester (the second house on the east side of the road north of the river bridge). They lived there that winter and the following winter moved close to Leiters Ford, Ind. The first winter there Grace went to a one-room school (Nebo School) attended by 12 pupils ranging from the first to the eighth grades. The schoolmaster was Del Kessler. The following winter she went to Sand Hill school north on the Michigan road. The school was just south of the church where she attended Sunday School. In March the Clemons moved 3 miles east of Leiters Ford in Richland Twp. where Grace attended a one-room school named Germany. Her teachers at this school were Delno Crabill, Clarence L. Mow, Elmer Alonzo Guize, and Harold Weir. "Ma" Clemons, as she was affectionately called, had asthma so bad the summer Grace was 16 years old that she had to have 5 pillows under her head to sleep. The Clemons had so much farming and canning work to do that Grace did not feel right to leave the work and go to school. To help them she attended school infrequently although they tried to get her to go regularly. When examination time came Grace could not answer the questions so she quit school at the time she was just starting in the eighth grade. Grace has in her possession two souvenir school booklets which she prizes - one listing the pupils of Sugar Grove School of 1903 with a photograph of the teacher, Lessie L. Moore, on the cover and the other listing the pupils of Germany School of 1907 with a photograph of the teacher, Elmer Alonzo Guize, on the cover.

George Washington had 3 children - Grace, Harold, and Lowell. Samuel Johnson had 2 boys and one girl. These 6 children married and had children. The Clemons had one daughter of their own and two adopted children (Floyd Lambert and Lawrence Hackett) besides Grace. Grace was taken to be raised when the daughter married (married Tola Rogers). Floyd was adopted when Lawrence married. Lawrence came to the Clemons in a railroad car of orphans from an orphanage in Boston. The Washingtons are still living (1960). The Johnsons passed away many years ago. Mrs. Clemons died Oct. 14, 1918 and Mr. Clemons Feb. 17, 1933. Both are buried at Athens, Ind.

1-14. ELMA MATILDA (Mary², Daniel¹), dau. of William Leonard and Mary Ellen (Clark) Crum, was born 4½ miles southwest of Akron, Ind., Mar. 2, 1895. She married Fred King, son of Charles and Julia Ann (Zegafuse) King, in St. Joseph, Mich., June 7, 1917. He was born in Deedsville, Ind., May 27, 1888. He died on his farm home 1½ miles east of Talma, Ind., Nov. 11, 1959 and is buried in the I.O.O.F. Cem., Rochester, Ind. Elma resides (1961) on the farm home (R.R. 5, Rochester, Ind.).

The following account of Elma's early years was written by her in July, 1960:

"I was born in 1895. When I was 3 months old my father died. My mother died in Feb. (1901) as I was to be 6 in March. Then I went to Mr. & Mrs. Fred Bayless at Macy, Ind. They didn't have any children when I went but after I was there around 2 years they had a little girl of their own. Then I went to Peru, Ind. with Mr. & Mrs. John Clark, my mother's brother & wife. They had a little girl 2 or 3 years older than I was. They didn't want me but I had no place to stay. I was there until I was 10 years old. My aunt, Ellen Clark, had (a) cousin come and see her from Rochester, Ind. They didn't have any children and she liked me. So that Aug. I was 10 I came to live with Mr. & Mrs. Milton Poffenbarger about 8½ miles west of Rochester to a place called Germany, now is called Loyal. I went by the name of Elma Poffenbarger until I went back to my uncle John Clark when I was 12 years. I don't know just why. I stayed there for around 6 months then to uncle Wm. Sausaman at Peru for two weeks. Got a new home west of Culver, Ind. about 4 miles with a Mr. & Mrs. (S. H.) Williams. I was there for a little while. I came back to Poffenbarger at 13. Went to school until first of year. Then I went to work at house work and caring for mothers with babies. I got $1.00 a week. I worked until I got married at 22 - then I was making $3.00 a week. Today when I take care of anyone $5.00 a day. So I made my real home with the Poffenbargers - a good home."

He married Edith Lola Haines, dau. of Ira Fremont and Bessie Alice (Grieme) Haines, in the Methodist Church, Chatham, Ill., May 27, 1953. Edith, a twin sister of Edward Lloyd Haines, was born near Toronto, Sangamon Co., Ill., Oct. 27, 1933. She is a graduate of Ball Twp. High School, Sangamon Co., Ill.

William attended Enos Grade School and Lamphier High School in Springfield, Ill. - graduating from the former in Jan. 1942 and the latter on Jan. 24, 1946. Upon graduation from high school he joined the regular U.S. Navy - serving (from Feb. 19, 1946 to Dec. 22, 1947) in the South Pacific area aboard small craft around the Marianna, Caroline, and Hawaiian Islands.

Upon discharge he joined the U.S. Naval Reserve. During the years 1948, 1949, and 1950 he worked as an Engineering Aid in the Bridge Design Office of the Illinois Division of Highways. He was called from inactive Naval Reserve duty on Oct. 5, 1950 to serve his country during the Korean conflict. One year of service was in Sasebo, Japan and 8 months in Pusan, Korea. Upon release to inactive duty on July 22, 1952 he returned to his position in the Bridge Design Office.

Soon after marriage William and Edith purchased a 25-acre farm one mile west of Edinburg, Ill. where they lived until July 1957 at which time they purchased and removed to another farm 6 miles northwest of Springfield, on R.R. 2, where they now live (1961). The new purchase, containing 57 acres, enables William to be closer to his work and affords him an opportunity to enjoy his favorite sports of fishing and boating because of the river (Sangamon) which runs through the northern part of the farm.

William is an active member of several organizations: the Sangamon County Farm Bureau, American Legion Post 32, Navy Club of Sangamon, Naval Reserve Surface Division 9-30, Officer - Petty Officers Club of 9-30, Springfield Audubon Society, Illinois Nut Tree Association, Elks Lodge 158, Illinois State Employees Association, and Sangamon County Trail Riders.

"BENJAMIN NOFTSGER DIES AT HOME EARLY THURSDAY

Pioneer citizen at one time operated five elevators in this locality.

"Benjamin Noftsgger, aged 83, a pioneer settler of Fulton County and for the past 47 years a resident of Rochester, died at his home, 719 Madison Street, at 2 o'clock Thursday morning. About seven months ago Mr. Noftsgger suffered a stroke of paralysis and this affliction which was accompanied by other diseases of advanced years gradually brought about his death.

"Benjamin, son of Nelson M. and Mary Clark Noftsgger, was born on a farm in Hamilton county, Ohio, March 17, 1846, and moved with his parents to Fulton county when but a lad of seven years. When the deceased was 17 years old his father died and for a time he was employed by Cogill & Bearss lumber company as a timber buyer. A short time later Noftsgger purchased and operated a general store in the Sugar Grove neighborhood during which time he also served as postmaster of that locality.

Owned five Elevators.

"In the year of 1881, a fire destroyed the Sharon store, Mr. Noftsgger then moved to Rochester where he was engaged in the farming implement business with A. C. Mitchell as a partner. A short time later he purchased Mr. Mitchell's interest in the store and branched out in the grain business in the year of 1885. Mr. Noftsgger's activities in the grain and elevator business expanded to such an extent that he soon relinquished his holdings in the implement business to Milo Brugh. At one time the deceased was owner of five elevators four of which were disposed of several years ago when he retired from active management of these concerns. Mr. Noftsgger's Athens elevator was sold to the Erie R.R., his Tiosa elevator was transferred to George Perchbacher, the Rochester elevator to the Farmer's Cooperative, the Walnut elevator was traded for farm property. The Loyal elevator is one which is now owned by the deceased.

"On November 2nd, 1865 Mr. Noftsger was united in marriage to Sarah Ann Mitchell, who survives with the following relatives; one son, Bennie E., of Mishawaka; a brother Nahman, of this city; a half-brother Sylvester Perry of Columbia City; a half-sister, Mrs. Minerva Ferree, of Warsaw; four grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

"Sylvester Perry, aged 72, died shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon in the Lutheran Hospital at Fort Wayne from injuries he received Saturday evening when he fell from a load of hay at the Mont Harrold farm. When he was taken to the hospital Saturday night, X-ray photographs confirmed the preliminary examination made by a local physician that he had suffered a fractured skull. He did not regain consciousness after the accident. Mr. Perry, who had been assisting his neighbor, Mr. Harrold in hulling clover seed, fell from the hay load in the barnyard. He was found shortly afterward. Those who had been assisting with the work were not sure whether he had suffered an apoplectic stroke which made him fall from the load or had slipped from the hay and injured his head.
